

NBL 4-17 Scoring

In NBL 4-17 Scoring, a minimum of nine games are played: two games each of male singles, male doubles, female singles, female doubles, and at least one game of mixed doubles. Additional games of mixed doubles are played in Overtime and Tiebreak, if required. Every game won (including Overtime and Tiebreak) is a point in a team's total score.

Order of Games. On one court, HOME will determine the order of games within the following sequence: doubles, singles, doubles, singles, doubles, singles, doubles, singles, mixed doubles (followed by Overtime and Tiebreak, if necessary). On two courts, male doubles and female doubles is played first, followed by male singles and female singles. Mixed doubles is always played last.

Choice of Ends. AWAY gets choice of ends and remains on that end for the entire match.

Serving Order. AWAY will serve first in all games, including Overtime and Tiebreak. Each side will serve four points, beginning from the right court and alternating with the left court.

Receiving Pattern. In singles, the receiver will begin receiving in the right court and alternate with the left court. In all doubles, the receivers will begin receiving in the right court and alternate with the left court; the receivers may use any pattern to receive serve as long as each player receives serve two times during the four-point receiving sequence.

Game Format. All games (with the exception of Tiebreak) are played to 17 points. If a game reaches 16-16, the next point ends the game. AWAY serves the final point at 16-16. In singles, HOME gets choice of receiving courts (left or right). In all doubles, AWAY gets choice of server and HOME gets choice of receiver and receiving courts (left or right). In mixed doubles, AWAY gets choice of server and HOME gets choice of receiving courts (left or right) and the serve must be received by the same gender as the server.

Match Scoring. After the completion of nine games, the number of games won by each team is totaled. If the leading team won the mixed doubles game, the match is over.

Overtime. If the trailing team won the mixed doubles game, the match will enter Overtime. Mixed doubles play continues until the leading team wins one game (which concludes the match), or the trailing team ties the score. All games won in Overtime will count in teams' scores.

Tiebreak. If the trailing team ties the score, a mixed doubles Tiebreak will decide the match: AWAY will serve 2 points (beginning from the right court, same player must serve both points), HOME will serve 2 points, etc., until 5 points is won by either side. The receivers may use any pattern to receive serve as long as each player receives serve once during the two-point receiving sequence. If the score reaches 4-4, the next point ends the Tiebreak and the match. AWAY will serve at 4-4 and has choice of server. HOME gets choice of receiving courts (left or right) and the receiver must be the same gender as the server. The Tiebreak will count as one point in a team's total score.

Coaching. Coaching is allowed throughout the match as long as it does not interfere with play. Team members are seated at courtside and are allowed to support their team.

Substitutions. The team coach may, at any time, substitute a player (same gender) into any game for any reason. Players who are removed from a game may not return in that particular game. In all substitutions, the original serving order may not be changed.
